A Final Settlement.

The President and the Directors of the Cairo & St. Louis Narrow Gauge Railroad will meet in St. Louis, to-day, for the purpose of investigating the books and accounts of the company and of the contractors of the road, preparatory to a final settlement of the company with the contractors. It is believed that the business will occupy several days.

SOUTHERN NARROW GAUGE RAILROAD.

The Hon. W. J. Sykes of Tennessee, who is identified with many of the railroad enterprises of his own and other States, will address the people of Cairo on Friday evening on the subject of a system of Southern narrow gauge railroads having their terminal at Cairo. Mr. Sykes is an able and interesting speaker, thoroughly acquainted with his subject which is one of immediate interest to every citizen of Cairo. The manner in which Officer Sheehan worked the case, having no clue whatever to assist him in his task, reflects much credit upon his ability as a detective.

FOUND DEAD.

On Sunday morning Coroner Gossman was informed by several different parties that a dead man had been found in the Mississippi river just west of this city, and he at once pressed a skill, went to where the body was reported to have been seen, and after a few minutes search, succeeded in finding the body. His clothes were all removed, with the exception of a flannel shirt, which was pulled over his head. His boots were also on his feet. The coroner, after considerable trouble, managed to get the remains into the skiff and rowed around Bird's point and up the Ohio to the levee, where a jury was impaneled and inquest held.

Go, everybody, and get a pocket full of gold, as well as one of the most patriotic bowls of soup ever made.

CHARLEY PUFFING.

Charley Puffing is the cook, and knows how to please everybody.

FROM PADUCAH.

SHALL THE CALICOES SPELL THE PADUCAHITES? RUMORED NEW MANAGEMENT OF THE PADUCAH, A. & C. Paducah, May 2, 1875.

EDITOR BULLETIN: I notice in your valuable paper, for the last two or three weeks, notices of a prospective spelling match between the Plain City and the Egyptian Capital. Nothing would afford me pleasure more than to entertain our Cairo neighbors in a friendly orthographical tussle, and our citizens will give them a grand reception should the challenge be accepted. If the arrangement could be made I would suggest that you name the 12th day of May for an excursion to our city, as that will be observed as a holiday here on account of the meeting of the State Masonic Fraternity.

A New Style.

H. Black, boot and shoemaker, on Eighth street, between Washington and Commercial avenues, has just received a new style of last, and is now prepared to make a boot that, for neatness and comfort, cannot be excelled. Give him a call and examine this new style of last.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, Mr. William Eichhoff, of the firm of Eichhoff Brothers, furniture manufacturers of this city, met with a serious, but not dangerous accident. Mr. Eichhoff was working at a turning lathe, in the factory, turning bed-posts, and had placed four posts in a frame to entertain our Cairo neighbors in a friendly orthographical tussle, and our citizens will give them a grand reception should the challenge be accepted. If the arrangement could be made I would suggest that you name the 12th day of May for an excursion to our city, as that will be observed as a holiday here on account of the meeting of the State Masonic Fraternity.

CALE AND ST. LOUIS RAILROAD.

On and after Monday, April 26, 1875, freights will be received and also delivered to consignees at the Freight House, 104 of Fourth street, near the Mississippi levee, from 8 to 12 a.m., and from 4 to 6 p.m.

Ticket office, corner of Commercial avenue and Second street. JOHN FAGGITT.

MUSIC.

Mrs. Charlotte Sanders having been requested to give music lessons in Cairo, begs to state she will do so on the following terms: For pupils under twelve, seventy-five cents per lesson; for young ladies, six lessons, five dollars; special vocal lesson in the Italian method, one dollar. Apply at Mrs. A. Mackie's, Fifteenth street.

work being in the lower part of the building, and the employes up stairs. He recovered, after lying for quite a while, and went to the upper room where he remained until Dr. Smith was summoned and attended to his wound.

FIRE.

About three o'clock, Sunday morning, a fire was discovered in a small house owned by Dr. Holtz, situated on the corner of Thirteenth and Poplar streets, which burned the roof and inside of the building so badly as to render it entirely worthless. It is supposed that the house was set on fire, as there was no one living in it at the time the fire broke out. The loss is comparatively light, as the building was small and very cheaply constructed.

MUSIC.

Mr. Monasarrat, one of the most accomplished lady minstrels in Southern Illinois, will, during the summer months, teach pupils of this city, music for the very low price of ten dollars per term. Mrs. Monasarrat has for years past taught the art of music in several of the most noted academies of Memphis, and has gained by her thorough knowledge of the art a most enviable reputation. Parents who have children whom they would have become completely versed in music, will do well to place them under the care of this lady.

LEN FAXON says he does not intend returning to Cairo, but if he were so inclined he could make things well in the newspaper line in your city. He may change his mind and start a new daily yet, as he thinks there is room in Cairo for three daily papers, until one of them dies.

A CITIZEN.

The Idlewild base ball club have reorganized and hope to play a series of games with you boys. The memory of Phil Howard and Charlie Hardy, of last year, still remains with our boys, and they hope to again have some fun with the idle crowd from Cairo. Let a club be organized and have a friendly bout.

Let a club be organized and have a friendly bout.

There is considerable commotion in our city by the rumor that John C. Noble has purchased the Kentucky newspaper establishment and intends running a live morning paper here, containing full telegraph report, etc. He will take charge, so it is said, next Thursday. I cannot vouch as to the accuracy of this report, but think there is some truth in it. If he does he will make things lively for a while, after his three years' rest.

Len Foxon says he does not intend returning to Cairo, but if he were so inclined he could make things well in the newspaper line in your city. He may change his mind and start a new daily yet, as he thinks there is room in Cairo for three daily papers, until one of them dies.

ORDINANCES.

I would call your attention to the enormous amount of ordinances now on ordinance book, many of which are not enforced on account of their impracticability, or in conflict with the general law under which the city is now governed. It would therefore be better to codify and revise the same. To this end I would call the attention of the city council and committee on ordinance at an early day.

HARDY.

The health of the city at the present time is very good, except three (3) cases of small pox, all of which are having proper attention, and are rapidly approaching convalescence. The executive, with the Board of Health, will spare no efforts to confine and stop the spread of this loathsome disease. While on the question of health I would admonish the people, in time of peace, to prepare for war. It is very probable that early in the season, we will have contagious diseases below and around us, and it is necessary for us to clean the city so as to invite the world to "visit" us; so let me and all, during the month of May, clean up our houses, premises, leaving nothing for the city to do but to look after the cleanliness of its streets.

GENERAL ADDRESS.

The mayor then arose, and delivered his inaugural address, as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE CITY COUNCIL:

In entering upon the duties of Mayor, and taking my seat this evening, I do so with some apprehension, but with pride, feeling the deep responsibility which rests upon me. In entering upon the discharge of my duties, I do it with the kindest of feelings toward all good, law-abiding citizens, determined while clothed in authority to do unto the very best of my ability, without fear or favor, or hope of reward. We are all equally interested in the welfare of the city; let all then work for a good government. My ideas of the way the city should be governed, I shall advance from time to time as I think the necessity of the case demands. I have selected my standing committees, with an eye single for the benefit of the city's interest, by placing these gentlemen upon the various committees that appear to me to be the best adapted, and most convenient, and to will faithfully discharge those duties that are imposed upon them, irrespective of former differences of opinion, which must result beneficially to the people and the city.

Not having during the canvass expressed my opinion upon any particular policy for the city government, I enter upon the duties of my office without a pledge of any description, and upon the understanding that the Mayor is not the only power in the city, but that it is composed of the city council and the people, who are to be kept up in my estimation by the laws imposed upon them. Officers making these arrests share the spoils and eat the bread bought with money earned by prostitution. Does this corrupt the morals of our community? No! Let the moral men and women of Cairo work together and lend a helping hand to these fallen sisters, and let them be educated, and under good and useful women.

Money spent foolishly applied to this purpose, would do more toward their reformation, and save many a fallen creature. While recommending this course, we must not lose sight of the fact that we have houses of prostitution in our midst, and if anybody is aggrieved, let them appeal to the law by making complaint; then it will be the duty of the police to serve the papers, and make the arrest, and not make the complainants themselves, and share with the city in the spoils. But at the same time the inmates of such houses will not be allowed to flaunt through the streets as the gilded butterfly—an attraction for the youth to gaze upon. In such cases, the ordinances of the city will be rigidly enforced. Prostitution being a crime and difficult of handling, we must deal with it the best we can, for model results.

STREETS AND SIDEWALKS.

I am sorry to say the streets in some portions of the city are in a wretched condition, and I would call upon the soonest possible time to repair them, to look particularly after those streets over which railroads pass, and which streets are to be repaired and put in good order by the said railroads under the ordinances, and the State law without any expense to the city. Although I shall see that the railroads are protected in their rights, they must not lose sight that we, the people, have some rights also, and they must and shall be respected. Sidewalks at the present time are in good, fair repair, caused by the continual system of repairing being done, before they go so far as to need reconstruction. The plan adopted by the previous council meets my approval, causing thereby less taxation. Let the good work go on, for the heavy burdened tax-payer needs rest.

DRAINAGE.

The city drainage has greatly improved, and for the present needs no attention of the city council, as the drainage appears ample for all purposes.

POLICE.

It is important to good city government that an efficient police force be selected, and I will try to select such men as will give general satisfaction, and shall regard it as a part of my duty to see that the police force perform their duties faithfully, honestly and impartially.

CITY ATTORNEY.

The city is only involved in two suits, they are injunction suits, in regard to Wharf-boat and River Levee.

CLAIMS.

There are no outstanding claims, that are not in course of adjustment, and will be promptly adjusted and settled by the committee on claims.

DRAYAGE.

Something new in the line of drayage has been inaugurated by H. Black, proprietor of the Planter's House. This morning he proposes to offer to the citizens of Cairo one of the finest soap bushes ever set in this city, and has, especially for this occasion, procured a large number of gold pieces, which, when the soap has been boiled, he will throw into the kettle, and every person who purchases a bowl of the savory dish will stand a chance of getting with it one or more pieces of the gold, which he will be allowed to keep.

Beside this, H. Black will have on tap a large and fresh supply of Schlitz's Milwaukee lager beer.

Go, everybody, and get a pocket full of gold, as well as one of the most patriotic bowls of soup ever made.

CHARLEY PUFFING.

Charley Puffing is the cook, and knows how to please everybody.
